Welcome

Company Overview

Let's Instruct was founded by Matt Stone, an ADI since 1999. Since those early days as a single instructor in Northampton, Matt has grown the brand into a thriving award-winning regional driving school, ADI training provider and now the groundbreaking Let's Instruct Independent Partnership.

Going into partnership with Andrew Love and New Driver Program, Let's Instruct now have a team with extensive experience to train, set up, develop, and support instructors to become independent, with your own brand, website, and pupils. For less than the price of a standard franchise, we work with you to build and develop your own branded business, supplying you with all the tools and support you need to succeed.

Mission Statement

Raising the standard of Driving Instructor business and training support within the driving instructor industry. Delivering value in a fairness in all we do.

Challenging the Status Quo

An industry first. Our package delivers your own branded business with the all the background support and benefits of a franchise. Following your initial 18 months, you can continue with our full support, drop to a bespoke level of support that suits you, or leave us to continue without our support, owning your own established brand and website. A truly unique package, promoting excellence, value, and fairness.

Vision

To support independent driving instructors across the UK, developing their businesses and reaching their full potential, delivering the highest quality driver training at the highest lesson rates.

Company Values

To invest in people by offering high-quality training. Promoting personal development for all who are willing to work for it in a fair and supportive environment. To promote excellent business practices throughout the Let's Instruct Independent Partnership network.

Growing Your Own Brand

We saw a gap in the market for a different way of supporting driving instructors, one that nobody else offers, fair and far better value than the old-fashioned franchise model. One where we help and support you to grow your own brand, where you benefit from your hard work and not someone else. You are not a franchisee, you are a Let's Instruct Independent Partner with your own driving school, branding, and website producing your own pupils.

Following the success of our award-winning driving school, we have a real team atmosphere within the business that sets us apart from other companies. We are better equipped than ever to support our Independent Partners. A business run by ADIs for ADIs delivering a unique opportunity.

Passionate About Teaching

Here at Let's Instruct we're passionate about teaching people to drive and are good at it too. We've worked hard to build a reputable and professional brand that people recognise and trust.

As an independent partner you will be provided with all the tools and support you need to create a highly profitable and successful driving school.

It is important to us that as we grow we retain the same values and high-quality service we have always delivered.

We have put together an outstanding independent partnership package which will give you the opportunity to build your own successful driving school business and earn a great income. If you think you would like to be a part of our Independent Partnership network, safe in the knowledge that you'll have access to award-winning support, then read on.
